Eatons First in Bradford with Collaborative Law

NEWS RELEASE

Eatons Solicitors Head of Family and Matrimonial Law, Liz Williams, has become the first member of a law firm in Bradford to gain the Collaborative Family Law Group's Collaborative Law Qualification.

Collaborative law is an approach whereby the family lawyers and their clients agree to reach a settlement without court involvement. This can include resolving children and financial issues arising out of the separation. Collaborative law is a non confrontational approach and uses skills in client representation, negotiation and problem solving to assist the client in reaching a fair agreement.

Liz Williams commented that 'Collaborative law can be an extremely helpful way of approaching settlement issues as its non confrontational approach can be a better way for many couples to resolve their problems.' Liz continued 'We provide legal expertise and support throughout the process which can often result in speedier resolutions and settlements which are seen to be fair.'

Liz is a member of Resolution an organisation whose members are committed to resolving disputes in a non confrontational way.

For more information on this or other matters relating to family or matrimonial law please contact Liz Williams on Tel: 01274 728 327.
