People Hounded for Debts they Do Not Owe

NEWS RELEASE

As increasing number of people are being pursued for debts which they know nothing about! Nichola Faith, a lawyer at Eatons Solicitors, has seen an increasing number of cases in Bradford and the surrounding area where it would seem that accounts have fraudulently been set up using an innocent person's details. The unpaid debt is then sold to a debt recovery company who pursue the victim relentlessly for payment of the debt.

One client, an old age pensioner being pursued for a catalogue debt, has reported this matter to the police who have confirmed that they will not investigate the fraud since it is the catalogue company who has been defrauded and not the old age pensioner. The Debt Recovery Company on the other hand has refused to confirm that the gentlemen is not eligible to pay until they see that the police are investigating the matter. This situation has left the victim in limbo! After much effort it was possible to have these cases referred to Dispute Departments and prevent the constant letters and telephone calls to the victim threatening legal action. A further difficulty is in getting written confirmation that the company will no longer pursue the victim for the debt.

It seems that Debt recovery companies are incredibly efficient at pursuing people for money but at times deficient when it comes to writing off debt actions against innocent people.

If you find yourself in this situation contact Citizens Advice Bureau but if matters persist contact Nichola Faith on 01274 728327.
